

Memorandum of Understanding between
The University of Connecticut
And
The University of Jordan

In view of the positive relationship between our institutions:
We agree to formally ratify ties.
We dedicate ourselves to a collaborative effort providing mutual benefit.

Both parties agree to cooperate in programs of common interest and expertise. Specific agreements concerning exchange of students and faculty, collaborative creative activity and research, and other activities as mutually agreed will be negotiated by the appropriate parties at each university following the signing of this Memorandum of Understanding.

I. Definitions

- A. "Home Institution" is a party to this Agreement that sends its faculty members and/or students to the other party ("Host Institution) for the purposes of teaching, study, and/or creative activity and research.
- B. "Host Institution" is a party to this Agreement that accepts the visiting faculty member(s) and/or student(s) from the other party (Home Institution) for teaching, study, creative activity, and/or research.
- C. "Participating Individuals" are those individuals nominated by the Home Institution who attend the Host Institution.

II. Purpose of the Agreement:

- A. The primary objective of this Agreement is to create a means for cooperative efforts between the University of Connecticut (hereafter referred to as UCONN) and the University of Jordan (hereafter referred to as UJ) to effect the academic interchange of faculty and students and academic and research information between the two Universities.
- B. The parties agree that this Agreement is incorporated into, and will provide the foundation and framework for, the particular projects developed by academic and administrative units from the two Universities and memorialized in other, implementing Project Agreements. Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as creating any financial relationship between the parties. The Agreement will be construed as a statement of intent to foster genuine and mutually beneficial academic cooperation.
