

JOSCo / KAFD Student Research Project Sponsorship Program

Apply now and unlock your potential...

Stressing on The Jordan Oil Shale Company's (JOSCo) commitment to invest in the social development and scientific platform for the future generations. JOSCo is proud to present a sponsorship program that funds university student's scientific research and graduation projects.

Applications are now open for university students in their third or fourth year of study, for an undergraduate degree and to students conducting master degree research. Strong preference will be given to research programs in the fields of Geology, Engineering, Chemistry, Water and Environmental studies.

The main areas of focus for such research projects will be of the following:

- Energy: Specifically oil and gas related projects. Such projects can be in the area of geology, mining, transmission, distribution, environmental impact, facility design or the energy business.
- Water Resources and Utilization
- Environmental Research

Please visit the nearest King Abdullah II Fund For Development office in your university to apply now!
